Description

Inspired by a high jewelry brooch from the 6th century of the Frankish culture, this shape taken from its original context plays with its scale and meaning, transferring its origin to the present day.

The series developed by Álvaro Quintana and Jesús de la Fuente for DA PROJECT is born from a shared creation process, in which sculpture is understood as a field of tension between gesture, space and matter.

About the artist

DELAFUENTE / QUINTANA

Álvaro Quintana Escobar (1991), an artist trained in Fine Arts and with a master's degree in Heritage Conservation, and Jesús de la Fuente (1972), artist and sculpture producer, develop a joint practice that is situated at the intersection between sculpture creation, material research and technical knowledge.
